

The back seats of a car;
bench for a back lane playground;
stage set for a family.

A job in a factory painting bouncy castles and a waterbed big enough for the four of us.

We bought Bewick Road because the people who owned it wouldn't sell it to the Jewish Community. We got it cheap because they were racists.

of this place would live in the movement of my feet.

I was supposed to leave.

I am strong-armed, or weak-willed to return.
